

11605. Clancy (Thomas Owen), Márkus (Gilbert): Iona: the earliest poetry of a Celtic monastery.

Edinburgh: Edinburgh University Press, 1995. x + 271 pp.

Part 1: Iona (Iona's early history; The life and work of the monastery; Iona as a literary centre); Part 2: The poems (Altus prosator; Adiutor laborantium; Noli Pater; Amra Choluimb Chille; The poems of Beccán mac Luigdech; Colum Cille co Día domm eráil; Cantemus in omne die) [text, English translation, and commentary]; Part 3: The alphabet of devotion [English translation]; Part 4: Iona's library.

Rev. by

John CAREY, in Éigse 29 (1996), pp. 196-200.

Dáibhí Ó CRÓINÍN, in Peritia 11 (1997), pp. 425-427.

Richard SHARPE, in Early Medieval Europe 7 (1998), pp. 360-361.

Jane STEVENSON, in CMCS 30 (Winter, 1995), pp. 140-141.

Classifications:

- H 3: VERSE: COLLECTIONS
- K 3.3: Christianity: Other religious literature: Instructional, apocryphal, imaginative: Abgitir chrábaid

Indexes:

First Lines of Verse:

- Colum Cille co Dia dommerail
- Día, Día do-rrogus
- Fo réir Choluimb céin ad-fías
- To-fet andes i ndáil fiadat findáil caingel

Author/Textual Sources:

- Amrae Coluim Chille
- Apgitir chrábaid
- Becán mac Luigdech
- Tiugraind Beccáin