

13611. Breeze (Andrew): Notes on some cruces in Middle Scots poetry: Henryson's Bawdronis, dart oxin and bacis, Dunbar's Strenever and Wallidrag, Gavin Douglas's Lundeys Lufe, Threte and Treilzeis.

In ScotL 29 (2010), pp. 1–15.

[1.] Henryson's Bawdronis the cat [not < Ir. beadrach]; [2.] Henryson's dart oxin [< Ir. dairt]; [3.] bacis in Henryson's The annunciation; [4.] Dunbar's Strenever; [5.] Wallydrag 'good-fot-nothing' and Gaelic [< MIr. súaitrech]; [6.] Gavin Douglas's Of Lundeys Lufe; [7.] Gavin Douglas's in threte [< Ir. i dtraite]; [8.] Gavin Douglas's Treilzeis [< Ir. trilis].

Classifications:

- D 1.2.4: Lexical copying (= Lexical borrowing) between Irish (incl. Scottish Gaelic and Manx) and English (incl. Scots)

Indexes:

Words/Proper Names:

- beadrach
- dairt
- Navar, Angus
- súaitrech
- traite
- trilis