Diplomatic editions of two closely related versions: A from Dublin, King’s Inns Library MS 10 (also YBL in App. I); B from Maynooth MS R 73 (b) (also Egerton 136 in App. II). With English translation and some linguistic discussion of version A only.

1426. Isaac (G. R.): The most recent model of the development of absolute and conjunct flexion.

Schrijver (P.) (ref.)
1427. McManus (Damian): Elegy on the death of Aodh Ó Conchobháin (†1300).
   Incomplete poem by Aonghus (mac Taidhg) Mac Cearbhallá Bhuidhe, beg. Beag nár bháith Aodh oídhidh Chuinn (33 qq.), ed. from MS RIA A iv 3 (743) with Engl. transl. and notes. Stylistic feature of echo (generally involving parallelism or antithesis) between opening and closing couplets in many quatrains discussed. Also on the identification of mhíric Cearbhoil (= Aonghus (mac Taidhg) Mac Cearbhallá Bhuidhe) and Aonghas Ruadh (= Aonghus Ruadh Ó Dálaigh) in Fear Flatha Ó Gnímh’s poem Cuimseach sin a Fhear ghail Óig §§ 4 and 5 resp.

   [1.] Introduction; [2.] Adomnán in the Latin tradition; [3.] Can the number of extant manuscripts be equated with influence?; [4.] Manuscripts of Adomnán’s De Locis Sanctis; [5.] Catalogue references to De Locis Sanctis; [6.] Adomnán’s indirect influence; [7.] Conclusion. ndl. app.: ‘Checklist of extant or known copies of Adomnán’s De Locis Sanctis’.

1429. Roma (Elisa): How subject pronouns spread in Irish: a diachronic study and synchronic account of the third person + pronoun pattern.

1430. Ó Néill (Pádraig P.): Irish observance of the Three Lent and the date of the St. Gall Priscian (MS 904).
   Some discussion of the terms samchásc ‘summer Easter’, corgus ‘Lent’, samchorghus ‘summer Lent’, gameorghus ‘winter Lent’ and minchásc ‘Low Sunday’. Concludes that the St Gall Priscian MS was begun in October 850 and completed in August 851.

   Reconstructs as neuter plural (collective) in ‘١٧’.

1432. Carey (John): Varia: II. The address to Fergus’s stone.
   Variorum edition with Engl. transl. and notes of poem beg. Manib do lìc (9 ll.), which appears in two of the accounts of how Táin bò Cuilnge was rescued from oblivion. Ed. from MSS LL and RIA D iv 2.

1434. McManus (Damian): Varia: IV. IGT citations and duplicate entries: some additional identifications.
