

3356. McLeod (Neil): Compensation for fingers and teeth in early Irish law.

In Peritia 16 (2002), pp. 344–359.

Discusses in particular the problem posed by the fact that compensation payments made for the loss of a little finger appear to be lower than those for other forms of injury not involving amputation.

Classifications:

- I 1.2: Society: Law, institutions: Early Irish law

Indexes:

Words/Proper Names:

- crólige mbáis

Author/Textual Sources:

- Bretha Déin Chécht
- Bretha étgid