

9590. Sims-Williams (Patrick): Old Irish fedā (gen. fedot): a ‘puzzling’ form in the Cambrai Homily and its implications for the apocope of /i/.

In Studia celtica et indogermanica [Fs. Meid] (1999), pp. 471–474.

Argues that fēda (rather than fēdo) is the historically earlier form (vs. K. MCCONE, Towards a relative chronology of ancient and medieval Celtic sound change, 1996, p. 106).

Classifications:

- C 2.1: Historical linguistics, language change and comparative philology

Indexes:

Words/Proper Names:

- feda
- fiada

Author/Textual Sources:

- Cambrai Homily